30 Days Suit Sale

Beginning
December 1st.

About every so often we come to you with a story of saving. Haven't you noticed it? Just now our main thought is how best to turn men's and boys clothing into money.

Regular prices wouldn't do it quick enough so we've made them irregular. We've gone around among the whole suit assortment and have put new figures on them. Figures smaller than the others. Smaller by a quarter—by a third where we could afford it.

These suits are all new—just arrived this fall—and consist of the newest patterns and styles. Perfect fitting and all sizes.

No, our chinooks have not left us. Sunday and Monday were evidences of this. The weather is ideal for this season of the year and by all appearances it will continue so for a while.

We are in receipt of the first calendar of the season from O. W. Hembling, implement agent. The calendar is a handsome one and deserving of a place in the best room in the house.

Another dance will be held in the Opera House on Wednesday, December 29th. No expense is to be spared to make this dance the society event of the season. The best music that can be obtained will be used for the occasion.

Messrs. C. Brown and R. Bird of Westcott left on Saturday afternoon last on a visit to the old country. They expect to be gone about three months and will visit England, Ireland and Scotland before returning.

The third entertainment of the Walker Course will be given in the Opera House on Monday night when Jessie Marie Biggars, one of the most talented entertainers in Canada will appear. This promises to be as good as the previous shows and no doubt will be greeted by a full house.

A new post office to be opened east of the Red Deer river, range 20, T-31. Blooming Prairie is to be the name and Fred. J. Davis will be the postmaster.

The Juvenile Bostonians appear in the Opera House on Tuesday night next under the auspices of the Fire Brigade. This talented company hardly need any advance notice as they are so well known that the simple announcement that they will appear is sufficient to insure a big audience.

Mr. Emery of Blooming Prairie was in town this week and reports that country as being in fine shape. Crops were splendid and there was no frost till late in the fall. Settlers are coming in very fast and everybody is looking for a big boom as soon as the railroad goes through.

We are having a great many enquiries for improved land in the Didsbury district. If your farm is for sale send us particulars with the number, price and terms and we will find you a buyer.—Kennedy & Clarke, Real Estate and Money Lending Agents, Carstairs.

STOP THROWING—Your shoes away just because they are badly worn, ripped and out of shape. The new shoemaker in Didsbury makes old shoes into new, and doesn't charge much for doing it. Bring your shoes to be fixed up and you won't want to buy a new pair for quite a long while. FRED HORTON, Shoemaker, Didsbury. Between Bill Bailey's Grocery store and North End Livery Stable.

The second lecture of the series given at the Harmanian church on Thursday night last was attended by a large number of people who braved the cold weather to hear Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, returned missionaries from China and Japan, in their lecture "Everyday life in China and Japan," illustrated with stereoscopic views, which were greatly appreciated. The next lecture will be given by Mr. J. Speakman, of Penhold, on Thursday December 16th.

The Edison Motion Picture and Novelty Co. exhibited in Didsbury last Thursday night and was well received by the audience present. The pictures were very good. This company intend showing in Didsbury every month and announce that they will have an entire change of programme every time.

The two School Trustees to retire this year are Messrs. Weber and Rupp. Mr. Weber states that owing to the pressure of business at his flour mills he will not be a candidate for any office this year. Mr. Rupp should be again returned as a member of the Board. We understand that he is not at all anxious for the position but his long experience on the Board is invaluable to the ratepayers and a large number of them think he should be re-elected.

A Little Cold

As they gathered round his bed,
When they heard that he was dead.

Neglect of a cough or cold often leads to serious trouble. To break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable, mix two ounces of Glycerine, a half ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and eight ounces of pure Whiskey. Take a teaspoonful every four hours. You may mix at any good drug store and easily take them in a large bottle.

The Day He Selected.

When Mr. Gladstone was alive he was once discussing with some friends at Hawarden castle the greatest day in the world's history. Each member of the group was asked to say on which day he, in the past or the future, would prefer to live, it being supposed that he should have his present knowledge, and afterward return to his present existence. Mr. Gladstone chose a day in Greece when Athens was at its highest glory.

Had the Effect.

"Yes," she said in answer to something he had said, "the old songs are very beautiful."
"Beautiful!" he exclaimed enthusiastically. "Beautiful hardly describes them. They are—they are—well, compared with them the songs of today are trash, the very trash."

"I agree with you, yet the old songs sometimes contain sentiments that one cannot wholly approve."
"I think you are mistaken."
"I will give you an illustration. There is John Howard Payne's 'Home, Sweet Home,' for instance. You surely do not agree with all the sentiments it contains?"

"Why not?" he asked warmly. "Why not?"
"Because," she said, glancing at the clock, which was marking the hour of 11—"because there is a line in that song which says 'There's no place like home.' You do not believe that, do you?"

Then he coughed a hollow cough and arose and went silently out into the night.

She Is So Sensitive.

"I wish some persons weren't so all red sensitive and ready to see an insult when none is intended," remarked the man with the troubled look, looking for sympathy. "Now, last night I got myself into an awkward fix just trying to be agreeable and to please everybody. I went to see a young lady I think a great deal of—yes, I think a great deal of her, but I wish she would be more sensible. Girl friends of hers were there, and it was her first visit since she'd sent a crazy looking, good for nothing decorated cup and saucer with scalloped edges as a birthday gift."

"When I was out shopping," the girl friend explained, "and saw that cup and saucer I just thought of you, Marguerite!"

"How? Hand palated, isn't it?"
"Now, the recipient's complexion is natural, as any one can see, and there was no reason for her to be so chittoward me the rest of the evening hang such sensibilities!"—New York Telegram.

A Vast Viaduct.

There has recently been opened, between the two New Zealand cities of Auckland and Wellington—some 300 miles apart—a remarkable piece of engineering work, the Makatote Railway viaduct.

It is situated about midway between the cities named, close to the base of Mount Ruapehu, and at a level of 2,600 feet above the sea. It spans the Makatote gorge at a point where it is about 1,000 feet wide and 300 feet deep, and is approached by cuttings through the banks on both sides.

Some 1,000 feet long, and 100 feet wide, the viaduct is built on a base of the site and district before the construction of the viaduct, and as this has been cut down only a few feet, it remains to enhance the grandeur of the scenery of the neighborhood.
The snow-capped Mount Ruapehu, 9,175 feet high, some seven miles away, forms a fine prospect from the ridge, while in clear weather Mount Remond, 80 miles to westward, can be seen. The viaduct consists of five braced steel piers, ranging in height from concrete base to top of hand-rail from 240 feet, the structure being about 220 feet from bed of creek to top of rail. The piers carry five spans, each of 100 feet long. The viaduct, with the approach spans, is 800 feet long over the girders, and with the abutments, has a total length of 850 feet. There are 5,738 cubic yards of concrete in the foundations and end piers, and 1,000 tons of steel-work in the braced piers and superstructure.

N. Paquin, St. Venceslas, Que.,

dren of childhood, and have not known them to fail. From my own experience, I can recommend them to all mothers." Sold by all medicine

Why Stanfield's Make Underwear

UP to 20 years ago, most everyone considered that all Underwear—no matter how well cut and made—would shrink and harden.

In those days, the makers were working on the wrong idea. They were trying to find a way to finish Underwear so that it would not shrink, instead of trying to find a way to get the shrink out of the wool before the yarn went to the knitting machines.

The late C. E. Stanfield—who knew wool as only a man can know it—who studies it from the sheep's back to the wearer's back—gave his attention to the problem for years.

Living in Nova Scotia, he soon realized that woolen underwear, and the best of pure woolen underwear, was the only kind that would and could protect the Canadian against the rigorous Canadian Winter. He found that as underwear was then made, he could not make woolen underwear that would not shrink, mat and harden. He devoted himself to this problem and after many years of experimenting, he finally discovered a method by which he could take the shrink out of the wool before the garments were knitted.

This method, improved and perfected, has made possible the immense business of Stanfield's Limited, with a larger output of their special classes of Underwear than any other factory in Canada.

The Stanfields make underwear today because Canadian people find Stanfield's Underwear the most comfortable, the most durable, and the warmest for its weight.

The Stanfields are making more underwear every year because the buying public demands more of it. Popularity is a good test of quality.

In 3 standard weights—Light (Red Label), Medium (Blue Label) and Heavy (Black Label) and 17 other weights and qualities to suit the needs and requirements of every man and woman.

Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I suffered for over twenty years

Town Topics.

Nominations for Mayor, three Councillors and two School Trustees takes place on Monday next and the election for these offices on the following Monday.

Outside of the Mayoralty contest there seems to be a dearth of candidates seeking public office. The positions are not enviable on either Board but someone has to take them, and it is hoped that some good business men can be prevailed upon to take these offices; men who stand for keeping Didsbury in the forefront of present day activity in town matters as economically as possible, and who are willing and whose business does not detain them from looking after town affairs properly.

A great deal of discussion is taking place amongst the rate-payers upon the action of the School Board in advertising for applications for positions on the teaching staff of the school. In conversation with some of the members of the Board it was learned that there was no intention of ignoring the present staff; that this action was a purely business one looking to the better conduct of the school business between the teachers and Board who feel that they do not have enough control under the existing agreement, and that the present staff have the same chance as others.

Of course the above explanation is all right so far as the Board is concerned, but have they acted quite justly to the teachers in not giving them a chance before outsiders were brought into the matter. If the present teachers have refused to sign the new agreement this is the only redress the Board have; if they have not refused then they should have been given first chance.

Preparing for Christmas

This week we enter upon the month of December and the fact cannot be longer put aside that Christmas is getting very close. It is undoubtedly a time of worry and also a great deal of work.

One of the most troublesome questions is that of selecting and sending presents. If people would only start about the securing of their gifts in time it would be a great deal easier. Easier for the purchaser and infinitely easier for the business people.

Christmas goods can be secured right now just as easily as three weeks hence. Buy a little at a time and wrap the gifts up, you can even put the greetings inside, address the packages and put them away. Then when Christmas eve comes and there are so many forgotten things to do, there will be a whole lot off your mind. Working yourself to death and working the store clerks off their feet around Christmas time might be avoided if the Christmas present question was as carefully arranged as business questions.—Herald.

The Up-to-date Town.

The stress of competition is felt between towns the same as between individuals, and if a town does not develop and exhibit its progressiveness, its enterprise, its vitality and its welcoming spirit to strangers, it will gain the reputation of a dull, dead town—a good place to avoid and a splendid place not to locate in. Real estate remains stationary or slowly sags, improvements cease, building operations are confined to mere memories, strangers locate elsewhere, artisans forsake it, business stagnates, the spirit of progress departs, its people move about as in a trance.

What is needed in these lively days is a town with love and progressive people in control, who recognize that the welfare of the merchants demands that the town shall be known as a progressive, lively and desirable place; which is the rallying point for all the hinterland; which attracts and welcomes occasional visitors from other towns; which has good roads, well-kept lawns, a welcoming hand of cordiality for strangers.

CHRISTMAS STAMP CAMPAIGN

THE 1909 BATTLE AGAINST THE DREAD WHITE PLAGUE.

Available Beds in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Increased Three-Fold as a Result of Last Year's Sale of Christmas Stamps. The Number Can Be Doubled This Year If Everyone Will Help.

Nearly $60,000.00 was netted from last year's sale, making it possible for the trustees to increase the available beds for needy patients from an average of fifty-five a year ago to one hundred and forty, the accommodation today.

The trustees are hopeful that they may bring the accommodation up to 300 beds as the outcome of this year's sale of this little one cent messenger of hope and healing.

The Christmas Stamp, as a means of fighting the dread white plague, had its origin in Denmark in 1904, the sale from which has financed a hospital for consumptives in that country. The idea was taken up by the Red Cross Society of the United States in 1907, and interest has grown each year.

A year ago a Christmas stamp of special design was put in circulation by the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives with the successful already indicated in this article.

The price of the individual stamp is only one cent, but what wonderful things can be accomplished by so tiny an instrument. There is no reason why everyone who writes a letter, addresses a postcard, mails a newspaper or parcel from this day out should not use one of these stamps.

The educational value of the stamp appearing on every piece of mail matter would be enormous. One can hardly figure up the material results, it would mean a routing of the enemy

Tuberculosis that would bring hope and joy and gladness to thousands of homes and communities in all parts of Canada.

The stamp of 1909 is more beautiful than that of a year ago. The design is as shown in this article, but printed in red and green, and is of some size as the regular government postage stamp.

This Christmas stamp will not carry any kind of mail, but any kind of mail will carry it—and carry too the happy Season's Greetings from sender to receiver. The stamps will be done up in envelopes of ten, twenty-five, fifty and one hundred for ordinary selling, and large users will be supplied in quantities. The price for ten or for one thousand is a cent each.

The banks, department stores, drug stores, book and stationery stores and many other stores will sell them. Women's clubs, church organizations, bible classes and Sunday schools, public schools, and many other organizations and individuals will help this year as last year.

There would seem to be no reason why everybody everywhere may not help in forming an army of willing workers to sell these stamps all over the Dominion. The Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives is in the fullest sense a national institution caring for patients from every province in Canada.

The first issue of the stamp for this year is one million, and these will be put into circulation immediately, but there can hardly be any reason why the issue should not be increased many times over before Christmas.

The direction of the sale of Christmas Stamps is in the hands of Mr. S. Robertson, Sec.-Treasurer, National Sanitarium Association, 317 King Street, West, Toronto, who will give prompt reply to any enquiries regarding the stamp.

Siebertville

Ed. Kelly who was engaged with L. Siebert for the past summer left last week for Calgary.

Miss K. McCartin who has taught our school during the present year notifies us she will leave at the end of this term, consequently the school board is looking for a teacher after new year's.

The school board decided to paint the school inside and out. The contract will be let in the near future.

Miss Sarah Kitchen, teacher of new Hergel school, is now boarding with Jno. Dick instead of J. G. Tracksel.

The beef ring meeting will be held at J. G. Tracksel's residence on Nov. 29th for the purpose of submitting the annual statement as well as reorganizing for 1910.

Mrs. Geo. Tumill, nee Miss Dinah Bouck, has been visiting at her parental home here for three weeks, left last week accompanied by her husband who came from Wainwright to meet her.

Public Has No Part

According to that portion of the report of the University senate which the censor of that institution has allowed beyond the sacred precincts, that august body has decided upon the plans for the university and for the department of agriculture and is hurrying them to some sort of completion before the meeting of the provincial legislature, which, one would imagine, would have some say in matters of this kind, sometimes.

The question of agricultural education is one of more than ordinary interest. Not only is the question one upon which the legislature should pass upon in general, but the method of the organization is one that is being more carefully discussed thoughtfully by a larger number of people than any other single question in the range of provincial politics today.

The officials of the university and the members of the senate must be well aware of that. The question will be brought before the next session of the legislature, even, without the consent of the university senate, and if current reports are correct, will result in the resignation of more members of the legislature. But notwithstanding all this, the university senate, quite forgetful of the fact that there is a legislature, or that any person is interested in the question of agriculture except the learned agriculturists composing the senate itself, proceeds at great speed to stake out some sort of a claim on the university campus before any interlopers can take any sort of action

Maple Leaf Flour Mills

The university senate is wilfully ignoring not only the members of the legislature, but the farmers who have already spoken and expect their case to be presented through the proper channels, which is in the provincial legislature. This is a good start for an agricultural college.

Perhaps after the next session of the university senate we will find that it with a real active university senate meeting about twice every year for a few hours each meeting, there is really little need for a provincial legislature. —Allerton.

The Home Journal

"Canadians need not go far afield in a search for a good family journal while we have such a publication as our own Home Journal. I know that the Ladies' Home Journal has a wide circulation in Canada. It is a fine instruction, though to me, true some of its lull, and in many of its features. The Home Journal covers quite as many topics in less space. It is better, less pretentious and more to the point. The covers are an artistic delight and are equal to those of the Saturday Evening Post, which is fine praise. I have known the editor, who is one of the best women journalists in all Canada, a woman whose writings have been appreciated in the New York press time and time again, whose work is known and appreciated in the Southern States, and to whom the New York Sun has more than once referred in a very complimentary manner. Why, then, do we not patronize our own? Why has it not sold in Toronto—and you know how I love my own city—that she never yet appreciated her own magazines and publications? This I do not believe—yet I have heard it said—and you may depend on it, it was truly contradicted. —'Kitt,' in Mail and Empire.

250 Good Stories

The Youth's Companion abounds in stirring stories of adventure and heroism. One may describe an escape from accidental peril another a strange encounter with wild creatures--man or beast.

Many of these stories are true as to facts,
and only disguised as to names and places.
A score or more of such stories will be published during 1910 in addition to nearly 200 others--250 good stories in all, and no two alike. And this is not counting the serial stories, which it is believed will be considered by old Companion readers as the best the Companion has ever published.

Every new Canadian subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $2.00 for the new 1910 Volume. Not only does he get the beautiful "Venetian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold, but all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909 from the time the subscription is received.

panion Building, Boston, Mass. New sub-
